Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 12-28-06.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-13, 16 and 17 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13, 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Applicant's arguments concerning the metal layers of the invention have been carefully considered, however, are not persuasive. Regardless of how the individual metal layers shown in applicant's FIG. 2 are characterized, that is, whether wiring layer M2 is part of the heat conduction part (33), or not, the claim recitation remains indefinite because, as presently constructed, the metal wiring layers of the heat conduction part (33) will indeed transmit a signal to other elements because they are electrically connected to wiring layer M2. Thus, contrary to the claim recitation, it appears that they may transmit a signal to other elements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-13, 16 and 17 are further rejected, insofar as understood, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamazaki et al, of record, in view of Shimada et al (6,353,189). The explanation of the relevance of the Yamazaki reference is hereby incorporated by reference from the previous actions. In addition to the features of the invention taught by Yamazaki, Shimada is cited to further illustrate a structure of metal wiring layers which are connected by conductive via layers and in which some layers are shielded so as prevent unwanted interference, etc.

To the extent the inventive structure is understood, it appears that these references show all of the structural features of the invention. One skilled in the art would be motivated to combine these references in order to achieve reduced interference between adjacent devices.
